more as a way to grow the world of ... Etymology and pronunciation. The Modern English-ing ending, which is used both gerunds and present participles of verbs (i.e. in noun and adjective uses), derives from two different historical suffixes.. The gerund (noun) use comes from Middle English-ing, which is from Old English-ing, -ung (suffixes forming nouns from verbs). These in turn are from Proto-Germanic *-ung. The fundamental purpose of scientific discourse is not the mere presentation of information and thought, but rather its actual communication. It does not matter how pleased an author might be to have converted all the right data into sentences and paragraphs; it matters only whether a large majority of the reading audience accurately perceives what the author had in mind. Morphology is the study of word formation and structure. In synthetic languages, a single word stem (for example, love) may have a number of different forms (for example, loves, loving, and loved).However, for some purposes these are not usually considered to be different words, but rather different forms of the same word.
